

LONDON MEDICAL MAN IS COMING

DR. CHARLES HODGETTS WILL DELIVER AN ADDRESS ON "HOUSING AND TOWN PLANNING"

Medical Health Officer Whitlock... The exact date has not been fixed for Dr. Hodgetts to speak at the medical association.

The exact date has not been fixed for Dr. Hodgetts to speak at the medical association. The annual meeting of provincial doctors will open August 13, and continue three days.

Dr. Hodgetts' address will deal with the evils of improper housing and the deleterious effects of their continuance upon the individual, both as affecting the health and morals.

"This may come as a surprise to many who have considered that in this fair land of ours it was impossible for such evils to grow up."

"It is quite true the evil does exist, and perhaps to a greater extent than we are free to admit."

"It may very properly be asked, what is unsanitary housing? It is a condition of housing which, in itself is unsanitary and unsafe and in any way unfit for home-making or for habitation."

Another month will see the concrete work on the high level bridge completed to the point where it will be possible for the G. T. P. to reach the steel structure.

Alterations in the plans of the entrance of the G. T. P. tracks at Edmonton have made it necessary to blast off another four feet from the abutment on the hill on the north side that was completed last fall.

High water was racing in the river yesterday, the highest stage of water that has come this year.

Winnipeg, Man., June 27.—Ernest G. Steward, a real estate agent doing business for some months past in the McIntyre block here, and formerly United States immigration officer at Neche, N. D., on the international boundary south of here, was arrested this morning at the instance of Sheriff Foster, of Pembina county, N. D., charged with the murder nearly two years ago of a Canadian, Philip Worrall.

Worrall, who was half detained, was stopped at the boundary for deportation during October, 1907, and while in Steward's custody at Neche, N. D., he was arrested on a charge of murder. It was a mystery until his bones were found in a shallow bush grave, three miles from Neche on March 11 last, and Steward's arrest now follows. He has waived extradition, and goes south tonight.

Workhorse Parade May Be Feature of the Big Exhibition

Association Directors Confident Fair Will Be Best Held in Western Canada This Year

The introduction of a workhorse parade, an innovation in western fairs, will mark the opening day of the Edmonton exhibition in August.

All the work horses in the city should, as far as possible, participate in a parade on the first day of the fair, according to Mr. Harrison's idea.

"The matter was referred last evening to a committee of the exhibition directors, and the suggestion was favorably considered by the board."

Yesterday the Exhibition association held a meeting at which the suggestion was favorably considered by the board.

CHIEF PROBLEM IS HARVESTING CROP

Western Canada will need thousands of men when grain is ripe. Toronto, Ont., June 27.—The greatest problem before Canada today is how to harvest the western wheat crop.

Local Association Completes Arrangements for Reception to Leader of Opposition Tomorrow Night

The programme. 5 P.M. Hon. R. L. Borden and party will arrive in special car at Strathcona. Arr. met by delegation of local Conservatives, and the Strathcona band.

Forty Conservatives assembled in the rooms of the association in the Craig-Nairn block last evening, completed arrangements for the entertainment of Hon. R. L. Borden and party during their visit to the city on Wednesday.

Two hours were spent in discussion of the forthcoming visit of the leader of the opposition, and various matters concerning conservative organization for the forthcoming election.

A committee of builders will report to a meeting of the builders' exchange to be held next week on the cement shortage, after which it is expected that some action will be taken to relieve the present condition of affairs.

Two Unions May Leave Building Trades Council. CARPENTERS INSTRUCTED BY AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR TO WITHDRAW FROM ALL COUNCILS IN CANADA AND UNITED STATES.

The Building Trades council, with which practically all the building workmen of Edmonton are affiliated, will probably suffer a loss of representation in the next few days.

The matter will probably be definitely settled at a meeting of the Building Trades council Thursday night. In the event of the withdrawal of the carpenters delegates the local building situation will remain unchanged, as the carpenters will undoubtedly continue to work harmoniously with the other building unions.

It is reported that the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners will withdraw their delegates from the Building Trades council in sympathy with the Brotherhood of Carpenters, although they are separate organizations, with entirely different national heads.

Gigantic Hotel, Costing Over $4,000,000, to Be Erected Near Times Square—Indian Relics Located

New York, June 27.—To relieve a long-felt want another gigantic hotel is to be built in the vicinity of Times square. The structure, which will be erected on the northeast corner of Seventh avenue and Thirty-seventh street is to be twenty-four stories high and will cost more than $4,000,000. The ground, to be occupied by the hotel, was recently purchased by a syndicate for $2,500,000 and, according to this sum the cost of the structure the total will reach the respectable sum of about $5,000,000. It is scarcely necessary to state that the hotel will be strictly up to date in its arrangement and equipment. According to the plans mapped out the hotel will contain 1,200 rooms, about 200 more than the Waldorf-Astoria and every room will be provided with a bath. The hotel has already been leased to a prominent hotel operator for $350,000 a year, the lease to take effect when the building is ready to occupy, which is expected to be some time in the fall of next year.

During the coming month there will be a wholesale naturalization of aliens in this city, in preparation for the coming election. There are nearly three thousand of these aliens, who are taking out their citizenship papers some time ago, to be made into full-fledged citizens and, to accommodate them, a special court will be held in the month of July, which will decide practically its entire time to the naturalization of aliens.

At great weight is about to be taken the police force in Brooklyn. The man Frank J. Link, of the Ralph avenue residence, has put in an application for retirement. He weighs 325 pounds and is said to be one of the heaviest policemen in the department. Link has been on the force twenty-three years. Some time ago he disputed the right of way with a Brooklyn trolley car and his left leg was injured. It has troubled him ever since and this fact finally induced him to seek retirement. There is no record of what happened to the trolley car in the collision with Link.

Some of the most interesting of the suffragettes busy Assembly district have settled down to business. The other day they held their first "suffrage burning bee" which, according to corroborating testimony by several of the participants, assembled at the headquarters of the organization and spent the day in mending stockings, bathing suits and other feminine things, while, at the same time, they talked politics and other subjects dear to their feminine mind. Between mending stockings and other things time passed quickly and soon it was time for tea and then came adjournment.

Could Not Walk Ten Yards Without Resting.

WEAK HEART WAS THE CAUSE.

Mrs. Robinson Collette, Rogersville, N.H., writes: "I am now enjoying the best of health after having used your Willard's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled with a weak heart and was afraid to draw a long breath for the pain it would cause me. I could not sleep at night, and it was impossible for me to walk ten yards without resting myself. I cannot speak too highly of your Heart and Nerve Pills, for they are the greatest I have ever used and I can recommend them to all sufferers."

Thousands of people go about their daily work on the verge of death and yet do not know it.

Little attention is paid to the slightest weakness of the heart for the simple reason that one thinks it will right itself, but there is where the mistake is made. It is only when a violent shock comes that the weakness of the heart becomes apparent.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, the use of Willard's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a quick and permanent cure.

GREAT VARIETY OF BLOUSES THIS YEAR

Many Different Kinds of Embroidery in Vogue—White Voile Favorite—
New Styles in Hats

New York, June 27.—A careful study of the fashion situation shows beyond doubt that blouses, contrary to some predictions earlier in the year, enjoy the same amount of favor as in former years. Blouse blouses have always an important place in the summer wardrobe and the fine blouse of this sort is as lovely as ever, but while the popularity of the all white lingerie blouse remains, the blouse matching the costume has unquestionably made great inroads upon that popularity and narrowed the province of the lingerie models considerably. There is a great variety of these matching blouses. They range from the simplest of chiffon or marquisette overblouses, accompanied by white gimpes to elaborate creations enriched by hand embroidery and real lace, etc., and the blouse of cotton marquisette or linen embroidered in color or figured in color to match the costume. Some of these white blouses are bordered in color and blouses of striped or figured linen in white and color are altogether charming, but the marquisette models of the cheapest sort have given a check to the vogue of the fine blouses of this character. Coarse marquisette unbordered by machine or with the most careless kind of hand embroidered work lead the blouse counters of the cheaper shops and are seen there worn everywhere, but that does not change the fact that the fine marquisette blouse daintily embroidered, is a charming thing.

The sheerest and finest of white voile is liked for blouse material and French models in this material are shown both in simple tailored gowns and in more elaborate form, with trimming of Irish or Cluny lace or Broderie Anglaise. The finely striped French lawns of beautiful quality in white and color are hard to find and expensive, but they make up into most likeable simple blouses with no trimming save collar and cuffs of white embroidered muslin or Irish lace.

One exclusive shop, which specializes in this sort of thing, has an alluring line of such models and of the materials to be used for made-to-order blouses or sold by the yard. One very handsome model in stripes of pink and white, blue and white, lavender and white or buff and white and of remarkable shapeliness is simply laid in fine tucks on the shoulders and otherwise unelaborated save by a plaited collar and cuffs made from the material and embroidered on their scalloped edges in white.

Heavier striped linen may be made up in plain tailored style, as the tailored blouse is understood nowadays, or they too may have the shorted sleeve and low collar, bands of the stripe used transversely or on the bias trim some of these blouses and others have fine white frills, collar, etc., trimmed in narrow bias bands of the stripe or pipings.

The strictly tailored waist as a rule has the high collar and long sleeve, but there are youthful looking models in linen, barrel lawn, dainty, etc., with sailor or Dutch flat collar and short sleeves which are good for sports and country wear, though not suitable for travelling and street use. When one comes to the blouses of chiffon, colored marquisette, crepe, etc., one finds a bewildering variety. Yet, on the whole, a certain uniformity. The lines of almost all are much the same, knee-length sleeves, fitted at the waist, Dutch necks with or without gimpes of net or lace which forms entire underblouse, fitting under the blouse in place and yet removable for laundering or cleaning, are a boon to the woman who has struggled with the trouble of keeping clean the becoming white, transparent gimpes of her dark blouse. Some women have several such and collar gimpes which may be removed and basted in again; but this is a nuisance, and the other arrangement, when one has once secured the gimpes, is much more satisfactory.

The hemstitched collars and cuffs of white or colored chiffon are the only ornament of some chic little blouses in dark chiffon or crepe and sometimes hemstitched work in bright color is used, white chiffon hemstitched in bright red or green, for example, forming collar and cuffs on a dark blue blouse.

Frequently the separate blouse is trimmed in such a clever way that it is brought into the general scheme of the linen or silk suit with which it is worn. A trimming of the material of which the skirt is made is used. It may be the favorite bib effect; it may be straps, bands, and buttons. Pippings of linen can be introduced successfully on thin fabrics of net, crepe, silk and voile.

The vogue for the separate collar is still at its height and there is a great variety of them to be found in the shops. Most of them can easily be imitated at home. Silk and satin collars are smart and are best when made detachable. This is done by sewing buttons on the inside of a linen coat along the revers and collar. The separate collar should be made larger than the pattern, so that its edge can be folded over the coat. On the edge work buttonhole to correspond with the buttons.

New Canvas Coat
A summer novelty is a canvas coat embroidered in wool. This wool embroidery, by the way, is forming to the front on the ornate frills. It is used in cross stitch and crocheted flower forms on the finest chiffons and balistics.

Little coats or jackets of changeable taffetas are worn with voile or mull lingerie frocks. They show the high line and the pleated frill on the lower edge.

The latest French and English fad is evening coats and wraps of knitted chemise in bright colors. These are made after regulars in the latest style.

A crissed steel effect is something new on tailored suits. The collar is no continuous at the back; it is in two pieces, and the ends are crossed and ornamented with broad buttons or embroidery.

MONTANA FOR GOOD ROADS

Missoula, Mont., June 27.—The problem of improved highways will be discussed in all its phases by the road building experts and others who gathered in this city today for the second annual meeting of the Montana Good Roads congress. The sessions will last two days. Scientific building and repairing of roadways will be given attention, also the organization of local good roads associations throughout the state. Another matter to be discussed is the project to be having improved highways to connect the capital cities of all the northwestern states.

Not long ago a pair of rooks built a nest in a tree in a certain gentleman's grounds. The owner was delighted at the prospect of having a nursery practically at his back door, but the farmer who owned the surrounding land did not look at the matter in the same light.

A Text For Borden
From the Liberal Platform

Here is a text for Mr. Borden's speech in Edmonton. It is clause 14 of the Liberal platform adopted at the National Liberal convention of 1893, the platform on which the Laurier government was elected and in which the west was promised relief from the graft system which permeated the Conservative government in the years previous to their defeat in 1896.

It was on account of this and such similar contracts made with the electors, especially the electors of the west, to relieve the government of the country of control by corporations that the Laurier government was returned, and it was on account of the alleged honesty of Frank Oliver that he was chosen to represent the west in the Dominion cabinet.

Here is the clause:

"We approve the Government for retaining in office a minister of the Crown proved to have accepted very large contributions of money for election purposes from the funds of a railway company which, while paying the political contributions to him, a member of the government, with one hand, was receiving government subsidies with the other."

Mr. Borden has had a great deal to say about purity in politics. If he is not also fooling the people, if he really means what he says, he can find in this and the present situation in which Frank Oliver has placed himself subject for a very lively little speech.

He has as the basis the circumstance that Frank Oliver's bank account shows him to have been the recipient of large sums of money, to wit, $50,000 and $19,350. Mr. Oliver's friends claim that these amounts were campaign funds, from a source not named, placed in his hands for the purpose of financing the election of liberal candidates in the west, especially in Alberta.

Along with this there is the circumstance that upon Mr. Oliver's recommendation to the cabinet there had been turned over shortly before to the Canadian Northern Railway some 800,000 acres of the finest land in Saskatchewan, to which the company had no claim that the minister of the interior was bound to respect.

It is clear that Mr. Oliver has been in the habit of receiving large contributions with one hand and it is also evident that he has handed out favors to a railway corporation with the other.

Mr. Borden is fond of telling the electors how far the liberal party, or rather how far some of the members of the liberal government, have departed from the vows upon which they were elected. This particular clause from the platform seems to be particularly apropos just at the present time, especially in Edmonton. Let he should have forgotten the clause, we commend it to his attention on the occasion of his visit to Edmonton.

Where Mercy
Should Season Justice

Angelina Napolitana, of Sault Ste. Marie, mother of three children, and about to become the mother of a fourth, killed her drunken husband because he beat and starved her and her children and tried to sell her into white slavery.

A Sault Ste. Marie jury found her guilty of murder, and an Ontario judge sentenced her to death. Then the department of justice postponed the execution until a month after the date when her child will be born.

In these days of modern civilization we are wont to pride ourselves on the spirit of justice which prevades the administration of the law, and that such a spirit exists is shown by the thousands of petitions which are piling up on the desk of the governor-general.

But if this poor, illiterate Italian woman who could find no escape for herself and her children from a human monster except by killing him, is to suffer the death penalty for doing what any mother in the world worthy of the name would be compelled by her mother nature to do, in spite of herself, then we Canadians will have to revise our pretensions and admit that we exact to the supreme limit all the horrors of an implacable and inexorable law, unseasoned by one iota of mercy, even when withholding that mercy which is to rob the world of happiness for the child unborn.

Reciprocity Situation
Satisfactory to Canada

On the first vote in the United States senate reciprocity has secured a majority, the Root amendment and the revision downwards men to the contrary notwithstanding.

Reciprocity is evidently going to pass both houses easily, and while the Democrats will undoubtedly take advantage of the occasion to make some capital for the forthcoming campaign by making a shadow fight for a general reduction, the vote indicates that no general reduction outside of the reciprocity arrangement will be made.

From the Canadian point of view, the circumstances are satisfactory. Canada would undoubtedly have been better satisfied by a general reduction, but the acceptance of the reciprocity arrangement is a start, and the general reduction will follow. The tariff in United States is kept in place by a swapping of interests. Once the agricultural support is withdrawn the tariff ring is broken. The reciprocity arrangement will accomplish this and the future will look after itself. The vote in the senate is the death-knell of the prohibitory tariff between the two countries.

Electricians' Victory
Shows City in Bad Light

Unless all signs fail, the city in its negotiations with the electricians has arrived at the place that the Capital predicted it would.

When the city commissioners refused to pay the electricians the same wages they are receiving from the city of Calgary and from the Alberta government, the Capital predicted that a resort to a Lemieux commission would practically compel the city to pay the wages. The Lemieux report will be out tomorrow, and the Capital now predicts that in all essential details the men will be found to have been awarded everything they asked.

In this business the commissioners have handled the city's case with the uncutness of a bunch of farm hands. The spectacle of the city, with its immense investments in utilities which are operated for the benefit of the public and not for profit, trying, in the face of a pending surplus in every department, to beat down the wages of its employees below the standard scale of the country is certainly not an inspiring one. And the declaration of Mr. Bouillon to the effect that he would not deal with the organization as such shows that he is behind the times and has no conception of the spirit of the Lemieux act.

It needed a Lemieux commission to show the city authorities that the city's responsibility to its employees is the same as that of any public service corporation; that it owes the men who do the work a fair wage and a reasonable living.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

Usher says the big problem is not reciprocity but how the western wheat crop is to be harvested. Why not put the Canadian Parliament out in the harvest field. Sam Hughes, for instance, ought to be able to shock wheat. He certainly shocks everything else.

The story which came from London about L. A. H. walking into a restaurant where Mr. Jeffries was seated gave Albertans the idea for a minute that Mr. Sifton was at last breaking in among the real celebrities—until it was discovered that the Arthur referred to was John Arthur Johnson.

Winnipeg turns out to be so penurious that it will not support a ball team. And yet there are those who claim that Winnipeg is a western town. Huh!

CONSERVATIVE PLAN ENTER-
TAINMENT FOR BORDEN PARTY

The distinguished visitor as the train pulls into the station, and the visitors will be escorted to Edmonton by a party of automobilists thirty strong. The Edmonton city band will await the company at the top of McDougall hill and a procession will proceed along Jasper avenue to the Windsor hotel, where a civic address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Armstrong.

Members of the city council will also be present at the reception. From the Windsor hotel the party will proceed to the board of trade rooms, where Mr. Borden will receive deputations from the United Farmers of Alberta and other organizations. An adjournment will then be made to the King Edward hotel for dinner, and for a period before the commencement of the evening meeting, the city band will play on the streets of the city, gathering at the corner of Jasper and Second street shortly before the opening. The band will then proceed to the rink where patriotic airs will be played at intervals during the proceedings.

At eight o'clock the chair will be taken by W. H. Gies, president of the conservative association, and the evening's programme will commence. Mr. Bergeron, who was last evening announced as one of the speakers, will be asked to deliver an address in French. A complimentary supper to Mr. Borden in the King Edward hotel will follow the programme of the day.

At the meeting last evening H. A. Mackie played the role of a would-be elevated of all foreign material, and the libelous which he alleges is displayed by Edmonton Conservatives, and throughout the evening the company from time to time with copious draughts of intellectual champagne.

COMPLETE CONCRETE WORK
FIRST OF AUGUST

Plans of the bridge, down on the north river bank there is tucked upon the wall a set of plans for the bridge. These were supplied to the company before any work had commenced on the foundations. One of the men in charge of the work at the bridge stated yesterday that there is not one detail of these original plans that has not been changed. The plans for every pier, every pedestal and all the steel work on the immense structure have been altered in some little detail at one time or another. A number of the changes have been due to the alterations of the plans of entrance to the city by the commissioners.

The best of gravel has been used in the construction of the foundations. The sides of the big river piers as they are being striped of the shelling into which the concrete was moulded appear almost as white as if they had been white washed. This is due to the fact that the gravel was carefully elevated of all foreign material. In the pieces of concrete that have been blasted off the top of the abutment on the north bank the only dark spots that appear are tiny pieces of coal that have been scooped up from the bottom of the river and have passed through the sieves of the cleaner with the gravel stones.

At present about 150 men are at work on the structure.

CENSUS TAKERS
COMPLETE TASKS

ENUMERATORS IN RURAL DISTRICTS TURN IN THEIR REPORTS TO COMMISSIONER

Census enumerators who were at work in the districts north of Edmonton have returned to the city and turned in their reports to the census commissioner here. Mr. Taylor, E. F. Simmons and F. C. Simmons who took the census in the districts around Gyle are in the city. They are guests at the Queens hotel. It took them twenty days to complete the census in their districts.

Mr. Taylor handled townships 59 and 60 ranges 24 and 15 in which he reported 129 families. Taylor, E. F. Simmons covered townships 59 and 60 ranges 22 and 23. He found about 59 families in this section, there being a great deal of muskeg in these townships. F. C. Simmons covered townships 59 and 60 ranges 22, 23 and 25 recording about 40 families.

These enumerators say that little difficulty was experienced in getting what information was required even from the frontier settlers. When an effort was made to ascertain the number of people in Canada at the present time they readily assisted the enumerators.

Many of the trails that had to be traversed by the men were in a very bad condition but road work is being carried on and the condition of the roads in these districts is being improved rapidly. Mr. Taylor said last evening that crops are in a flourishing condition in the Gyle district. Barley is already headed out and the wheat is showing signs of heading.

KOOTENAY BERRIES

All the ladies will be interested in learning that the KOOTENAY STRAWBERRY CO., LTD., of the entire output of the Kootenay fruit growers union is being marketed in the city by the KOOTENAY STRAWBERRY CO., LIMITED, as in the past two years, and the best brand of this enterprising company is already looking orders for these famous berries.

The season is a little later than last year, but the berries will be ready to reach the city early next week. They are, as is well known, even better than those of other parts of the country, that the Kootenay berries are in a class by themselves, and have no equal either in Canada or elsewhere.

Good Progress on
New Trunk Sewer

PIPE LINE, WHICH IS TO BE COMPLETED THIS YEAR
AT COST OF $70,000, WILL SERVE EAST END OF STRATHCONA.

Strathcona, June 27.—Up Mill Creek valley in the east end of the city the new trunk line sewer which is to cost $70,000 is pushing its way like a steady serpent under the able efforts of the Strathcona Construction Co. of Edmonton, the contractors. Already the upper end of the line has reached some distance above the new bridge on the Glavier bar road and in spite of difficulties a long stretch of ditch is being opened daily. The sewer crosses Mill Creek for the first time at its lower end on the east side of Anderson's brick yard and from the road at this point a big tunnel will have to be driven through the bank to provide an outlet into the river. Owing to an overflow of water the ditch has not yet been completed near the creek and this will have to be done before the sewer can be laid. The sewer crosses Mill Creek for the first time at its lower end on the east side of Anderson's brick yard and from the road at this point a big tunnel will have to be driven through the bank to provide an outlet into the river. Owing to an overflow of water the ditch has not yet been completed near the creek and this will have to be done before the sewer can be laid.

Whyte avenue is now furnished with a fifteen-foot cement walk on both sides of the street to Fifth east. The last block was completed last week and the workmen are now moved to a point west of Third street to spread a couple of feet of concrete. The concrete will be followed by the sewer traverses in many places the bed of the creek and this, while lessening the cost of excavation, has made it necessary in several cases to confine the waters to sluices while the street is open. The city will serve the east end of the city for which there has been no connection with the city system heretofore.

Improve College Grounds

At the Alberta College grounds in the west end of the city there will be a considerable improvement in the present outlook Ontario is to harvest another heavy crop this year as well as the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy and son Everett of Kenilworth, Ont., arrived in the city last week to spend a couple of months with Mr. W. Murphy of Watford, speaking last night at the Strathcona Y. M. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy and son Everett of Kenilworth, Ont., arrived in the city last week to spend a couple of months with Mr. W. Murphy of Watford, speaking last night at the Strathcona Y. M. C. A.

Mr. C. Kent who had such a narrow escape from a fatal injury last Friday afternoon when he was run over by a heavily loaded wagon, is steadily recovering and will probably be about again in a short time. Strangely enough Mr. Kent escaped without a bone being broken and none of the effects of the shock were so bad as it did in a few hours, his condition rapidly improved and he returned home from the hospital Sunday.

What is termed a sanatorium will be participated in by the Catholic Sunday schools of Edmonton and Strathcona next Monday, July 3. The day will be spent at the hospital in the vicinity of the city bridge and the journey to the grounds will be made in the University "City of Edmonton" which will leave the ferry dock at 9:30 in the morning.

Second street grounds in Edmonton will be the scene of an interesting football struggle this evening with the intermediate league teams, the Royals and the Strathcona Y. M. C. A. The chief contest will be between the Royals and the Strathcona Y. M. C. A.

Neil J. Duggan who has been attending the Gonzaga college at Spokane, Wash., returned home last week. He will spend the summer here, returning to Spokane at the opening of the fall term in September.

A fierce little fire which consumed a stable in the north-western part of the city Saturday evening gave the brigade the second run last week. The stable was on the premises occupied by Mr. John Swartz on Queen street. Surrounded as the building was by straw and hay it was almost entirely consumed before the firemen arrived on the spot. Fortunately there were no horses in the barn and the loss was confined to harness and various tools which were in the building. The origin of the fire remains unknown though it is suspected that some person smoking about the place set fire to the straw.

Provincial Power House Stack Highest in Alberta

WILL BE 153 FEET FROM LEVEL OF GROUND TO TOP—
PLANT WILL FURNISH HEAT AND LIGHT FOR NEW BUILDINGS.

A distinguishing feature of the new provincial parliament buildings is that the power house furnishing heat and light to the legislative halls and the government offices will have the highest smoke stack in Alberta. From the ground level to the topmost bricks on the stack will be 153 feet. The fire will be 15 feet square at the base and will taper down to 2 feet 2 inches at the top. The concrete foundation is now in place for the chimney and the brick work is just commencing.

The power house is situated between the E. Y. and P. track just below the old Hudson's Bay Co. It is foundations are now being laid and it will be completed this summer. The building will be 20 feet and will contain the heating plant for the parliament buildings and the generators for furnishing electric light throughout the building.

There will be a high level of water of any kind over the grounds to the parliament buildings. All the back foundations required to warm and illuminate the legislative hall will be laid in the concrete of the power house. The stack is placed on a switch above the E. Y. and P. track. A tunnel has been driven from the site of the power house to the basement of the parliament buildings. The tunnel has all the heating pipes and the electric light wires will pass.

The power house is being equipped with three batteries of Babcock Wilcox boilers as the main part of the heating equipment. There is space for the building for the installation of another battery. Then there is a large space for the accommodation of the engines that will generate the electric power.

The building will be a single story structure of red brick. The brick is being brought from Medicine Hat. It is designed to be 100 feet high, 100 feet, A. M. Jeffers, J. Gillespie is superintending the construction work.

Thousands of Equines Have Lost Their Shoes

THREE CARLOADS OF OLD HORSE SHOES BEING SHIPPED TO WINNIPEG THIS WEEK—OVER
28,000 IN SHIPMENT.

Clank! clank! clank! The sound of steel clashing on steel sounded through the Grand Trunk yards for several days without a stop last week. It was the noise of thousands of old horse shoes being thrown into empty box cars for shipment to Winnipeg. They are melted and re-cast for other purposes.

Three box cars were filled to their capacity with the cast off shoes of the equines in Northern Alberta. Most many thousands there will probably never be known. A box car will carry approximately 30 tons and with three filled there should be 90 ton or 180,000 pounds of shoes.

Where did all the shoes come from? Was the question directed at the shipper.

"I got lucky a couple of months ago," advised a horse shoe merchant. "I got a lot of shoes. Garbage merchants all over the province immediately began to keep their horses' shoes. I was called along the roads by children."

CONSERVATIVES PLAN ENTRY
TENTATIVE FOR BORDEN PARTY

The victims of his mordant wit were variously the conservative politicians who were accused of selfishness in canvassing, the committee which has had charge of the arrangements for the Borden reception, upon whom he moved a vote of censure. Smarting under the castigation, the Conservatives who were the bulk of Mr. Mackie's serio-comic jests, sought to show that things were not quite so rotten in the state of the party as he represented, and so in re-arranging, the greater part of the evening was spent.

Mr. Mackie chose as his first text the pitiable plight of Morinville, where, said the speaker, it had been proposed that a meeting should be held in the town of Morinville. The speaker, who was in the chair, said that he had been told that the meeting should be held in the town of Morinville. The speaker, who was in the chair, said that he had been told that the meeting should be held in the town of Morinville.

Then followed a dramatic scene in which Mr. Mackie denigrated the reputation of Mr. Borden. He had not been advertised as a speaker, who word had not been passed on to the people of St. Albert and the uttermost parts of the Edmonton district that a Frenchman would denounce reciprocity in French at Thursday's meeting. The speaker, who was in the chair, said that he had been told that the meeting should be held in the town of Morinville.

Williamson Taylor explained that it was not easy to organize and bring the French speakers, that it was only within the last few days that the committee learned that Mr. Borden, and Mr. Mackie, still protesting, allowed the matter to drop. "The spirit of carping, capricious criticism," were the terms in which Major Griesbach described the onslaught.

In discussion of the appointment of officers, it was urged that the city police be retained only as a reserve, as at the last meeting the police were the cause of disturbance. "If a Frenchman did not wish to see a repetition of the incidents of the Oliver meeting, he declared."

Mr. Taylor announced that as yesterday was Mr. Borden's birthday the president of the association had wired him the organization's congratulations.

showed knowledge of his work and the jury reported instantaneous death. The body was taken to the morgue. The death watch is also keeping a strict guard on Thomas Mitchell Robertson, who was condemned to hang for the same crime for which Fisk paid the extreme penalty this morning.

All day Monday Robertson was reported to be acting somewhat excitedly, and on Monday night, he begged to have a kitten that had been playing around the stables, and was given it. He was apparently aware that Fisk was to die Tuesday and was trying to divert his mind from the fate of his partner in crime.

ACTION DISMISSED.

Jas. L. Holden, M.P.P., appeared as defendant in the supreme court this morning in an action in which Mary Shipley, of Vancouver, administrator of the estate of the late Thos. W. Shipley, sought to recover the sum of $693.25, principal and interest alleged to be due upon a sum of $600 loaned to Mr. Holden by the deceased on October 19, 1907. The action, which was brought on a promissory note payable in six months after date, was dismissed by Mr. Justice Simmons, the defendant, having sworn on the stand that he had not Mr. Shipley in currency before his death.

DOLLAR DINNER TO GOV. WILSON

Newark, N. J., June 27.—Preparations are nearly completed for the "Dollar Dinner," which the New York World-Telegram and Sun county has arranged for tomorrow night in honor of Governor Wilson, "in appreciation of his services under his administration and in recognition of the dawn of a new era in the politics of this state under his leadership."

The dinner will be held at the Princeton University club, in this city, which has a seating capacity of 800, has been elaborately decorated with its ceiling in orange and blue. The Princeton University club, Gov. Wilson will be the chief speaker of the evening.

At a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association held last night, it was decided that Dominion Day holiday, Saturday, July 1, will be observed on that day instead of Monday. The stores will be closed all day Saturday but will remain open Friday evening.

WORKERS' PARADE MAY BE FEATURE OF BIG EXHIBITION

push of exhibitors who wished to secure the most desirable locations on aboutment giving the offices the appearance of a departmental store bargain day.

Approval was given to a number of additions to the equipment at the park. Not only is the equipment to be started today on the second wing of the industrial pavilion, but a new building for the purpose of housing the exhibits is to be completed before fair week, and the dog and poultry building of last year is to be used this year for the same purpose.

Telephone and Express Office

Another very important improvement will be the installation of an express office and a telephone office provided with complete equipment and a staff large enough to handle the business which promises to be of a very large proportion.

Apart from the questions concerning the fair, which now necessarily takes up the greater part of the attention is being given to improvements required in the park. The improvements at the recreation park, and within a few months time the director of the park is being given to improvements at the recreation park, and within a few months time the director of the park is being given to improvements at the recreation park.

Government Engineer Is Surveying Saskatchewan

NEW BOAT, CONSTRUCTED AT COST OF $3,000, WILL TAKE THE WATER TONIGHT FOR PRINCE ALBERT
WHERE ENGINEER MAKES HEADQUARTERS.

Aboard the newly constructed government boat, E. B. Volney, who has charge of the surveys that are being conducted along the Saskatchewan river with a view of making the stream navigable, will leave the wharf at Walter's mill tonight on a trip to Prince Albert, where he will make his headquarters for the next two months.

A river captain and a pilot arrived in Edmonton this morning by C.N.R. from Prince Albert to take charge of the little government craft on its initial trip down stream. The boat is equipped with the crude oil engine that did service in the "La Fleur" the boat that was constructed last year under the direction of J. Mahood to carry supplies required in the survey work.

The "La Fleur" has been dismantled. The stilt is lying up on the bank of the river. The boat is being taken to the mill. It will never be seen again. People who are in a position to know, estimate the cost of building the "La Fleur" at $6,000. It is said that the boat which is to start on its first trip on the river this evening was constructed at a cost of little more than $3,000. It is 66 feet long and 14 feet in width. The "La Fleur" was a much smaller boat.

The boat will be used this summer to carry supplies to the various survey parties working along the river. The offices of the Saskatchewan river survey in the post office building which have been occupied by Mr. Volney during the past winter have been abandoned and the equipment moved to the wharf. They have been moved to the wharf. They have been moved to the wharf.

All the construction work on the boat is not yet completed and a carpenter and painter will be taken along to put the trimmings on the woodwork during the trip. The trip to Prince Albert will require several days. Water of the Saskatchewan river is at a high stage at the present time and everything is favorable for river navigation.

WAS LADY DECIES EVER PRESENTED?

AMERICAN SOCIETY IN LONDON WONDERES HOW AMERICAN GIRL COULD HAVE GONE TO COURT AND THEN IMMEDIATELY UNDERGONE OPERATION.

London, June 27.—It looks as if the question, whether George, Gould's daughter, Lady Decies, was "presented" to the king and queen, is being asked. The girl was destined to become the wife of one of those historical mysteries, the king's son, the Duke of York. The girl was destined to become the wife of one of those historical mysteries, the king's son, the Duke of York.

To present-day "society," and especially to American "society," the Decies' case is a good deal more important than either of the two. For, if Lady Decies was really "presented" May 10, she was the first American woman to be presented to the present king and queen of England. That's an honor that can't be bought for money, as any true "society" will testify. But if Lady Decies was not "presented" May 10 there is a chance for somebody else to get ahead of her.

There is likely to be heard of this controversy in society circles for a long time to come. The chances are that it will be a rival claimant to the honor Lady Decies claims, just as there were rival claimants to the honor of having been the first man to reach the north pole—only this dispute isn't going to be anywhere nearly as easy to settle as the North Pole dispute was. Probably it never will be settled. That is, it will be settled as to who was the first man to reach the north pole, but it will be settled as to who was the first man to reach the north pole.

Of course there are certain insiders who know all about the Decies' case, and who were not present May 10. King George and Queen Mary undoubtedly know all about the Decies' case, and who were not present May 10. King George and Queen Mary undoubtedly know all about the Decies' case, and who were not present May 10.

One thing is a certainty—Lady Decies' name is included in the official list of those who were presented on the night of May 10. The king and queen are too big to be asked to verify this statement. The Decies and their friends are too big to be asked to verify this statement. The Decies and their friends are too big to be asked to verify this statement.

Frankly, she might, should of the absolutely impossible, there is no limit to the things some people will do to be presented to royalty, and painful as it is to admit it, Americans are often worse than the British in this respect. Still, the operation, coming so close after the reported presentation, casts just a suspicion of doubt upon the latter. Then there's another thing. Except for the official announcement and Decies' close friends, it is impossible to find anybody who saw Lady Decies at court May 10, or heard her name called. A good many people who were present have been asked about the matter. They haven't said her ladyship wasn't there. But they do say they didn't see her. Inasmuch as it had been publicly advertised that she would be present, it is not likely that she was not there. It is not likely that she was not there.

Isn't it possible that the Decies decided it would be nice to have her ladyship at least "officially" the first American woman to be presented to the king and queen even though it was impossible for her to be there in actual person, that they got the lord chamberlain to "doctor" the list of names accordingly and that they then arranged with a few friends they knew they could depend on to corroborate the presentation story it is. Isn't it also possible that her ladyship left her sick bed and risked her life to be presented and that the disinterested witnesses' failure to see her or to hear her name called was pure accident? Though it seems unlikely, this is also possible.

Justice Sir Charles John Darling of the King's Bench Division of the high court of justice is perhaps the most pompous and dignified of all the judges in England. He rules his court with a rod of iron and of all things which is quick to rebuke is the slightest rustle of noise, except that of his own voice, those of the lawyers before him or of the witness on the stand, within its walls. His stern cry of "Order" which has ever spent many minutes in the venerable chamber where he presides.

The other day his lordship started to sit up in a case pending before him. In the middle of his remarks a sudden thunder-storm burst over the law courts. A vivid flash lit up the court room. A deafening crash of thunder followed.

"Order," shouted his lordship angrily, "stop that noise!"

It was an appreciable length of time before he realized that he had at last interfered in a matter beyond even his jurisdiction. The lawyers and court attendants didn't dare to laugh, either.

This season it is Fred Clarke instead of Honus Wagner, who is doing the heavy hitting for the Pirates.

OPEN TENDERS FOR ANOTHER PUMP

POWER HOUSE SUPERINTENDENT ASKS FOR HIGHER WAGES FOR HIS FIREMEN

Tenders were read at the city commissioner's meeting yesterday afternoon for a high head pump at the power plant. Plans are well under way to install a 6,000-gallon pump at the earliest practicable time, and the tenders just received will be examined by Superintendent Hoffman and reported on later. The bids opened were from the following:—Laurie and Lamb, $27,850; D. Lavelle and Co., $22,000; Canadian Boyne Co., $16,900 and 18,700; John Inglis Co., $23,000.

Superintendent Hoffman told the commissioners that the firemen at the power house were not receiving enough wages, being paid less than for the same class of work in other cities. The matter was referred to Commissioners Gandy and Asar to take up with Superintendent Hoffman.

Superintendent Knight of the municipal street railway department recommended that the city stand the hospital expenses of Lockett Smith, the unfortunate laborer who lost a leg recently as the result of a street car accident. Superintendent Knight also thought it would be well to purchase an artificial leg for Mr. Smith. Action on the recommendations was deferred. In connection with his report Superintendent Knight stated that at the time of the accident, when Smith was struck by a car, Smith appeared to be under the influence of liquor and that the automaton and conductor were not to blame.

Some difficulty is being experienced in securing a sufficient number of names of petitioners for paving MacKenzie avenue, according to Commissioner Gandy, who has been over the ground. He said that only 14 signatures had been obtained, and that the matter was referred to City Solicitor Bowen.

"THE GODDESS OF LIBERTY" AT THE LYCEUM THEATRE

Sherman and Cleveland presented to the delight of the Lyceum patrons last evening "The Goddess of Liberty," a musical play, of merit, by Booth, Adams and Howard, the well known writers of "The Time, Place and Girl," and "A Stubborn Girl." This musical comedy is one of the best seen at the Lyceum for some time and deserves special mention.

The songs are all decided hits, and the comedy goes with the snap and bang that is so characteristic of the Lyceum. Each and every member of the company did his or her part well and "The Goddess of Liberty" proved quite entertaining.
